REVIEWED BY:

An application for a permit, permit modification, or permit renewal must contain a certification of compliance signed by a Responsible Official. This form must be submitted with each application in addition to satisfying the compliance certification requirements of Regulation No. 30 (Title V) State Operating Permits. The Annual Compliance Certification report is due February 1 of each calendar year and covers the reporting period of January 1 through December 31 of the previous calendar year. This form also fulfills the requirement to certify compliance with applicable requirements at the time of the initial application request for a permit and for a significant or minor permit revision request. This form can also be used to certify compliance with the applicable requirements and terms and conditions of the operating permit as part of request for permit renewal.

This form has been designed for permits issued before May 12, 2008 that have the old boilerplate language. If you are uncertain of which Compliance Certification form to use, ask your permitting engineer or scientist.
