My wife and I would like to thank you and the other DNREC folks for all your hard work in putting together this proposal to save the remaining natural areas of Delaware from overdevelopment. Unfortunately, I will be unable to attend tomorrow's hearing in Dover. However I would like to convey our support to try and influence the county administrations - particularly Sussex - that we need to re-balance the need for more dwelling spaces with our equal need for _natural_ spaces.

I have lived 40 of my 66 years in Delaware and witnessed the decline in the natural beauty of New Castle County and now that same thing is happening in Sussex. One thing I have learned over these years is that not everything can be measured in money. Unfortunately greed has become the new religion in this part of the country.

We need to think about future generations and what conditions they will be faced with. I urge all our political leaders to rise up to that higher standard of courage and act to preserve those remaining natural areas for our grandchildren and great grandchildren.
